7-1 Description

The Lewandowski house at 718 Anneslie Road (Lot 45/46, Block L) is a detached one and one half story brick dwelling. The brick is an unusual rusticated brick and has stone quoins. The house is a small cottage type with projecting bay and elaborate curving gable. It retains all original 1930's materials except for the asphalt shingles that replace the original slate roof. The house is one of six in the block of similar design.

The house's main south facing facade is three bay with a projecting center entry gable and a large front facing chimney with chimney pots. The two bays flanking the entry have flat brick arches over each 6/6 window. The entrance in the center gable is detailed with a stone arch with keystone and the arched front door is solid wood vertical board. Two second floor shed roof dormers containing 6/6 windows are set in the side gable roof and are closely aligned with the first floor windows.

The east facing facade along the driveway has a pair of double width windows on the first floor, and a single second floor window centered in the gable.

The north facing facade is assymetrical with a variety of openings. The entrance is a centered half story door with poured cement stairs to a stone patio. On the first floor there are three windows and the second floor has three windows set in a wide stuccoed shed dormer. The basement level has an entry and a one car garage opening at ground level.

The west facing first floor facade has a single and a triple window. The second floor has one centered window.

The interior of the Lewandowski house retains its original floor plan. The first floor has a center passage with two rooms on either side: dining room and kitchen to the right, and living room and den to the left. At the rear of the passage is the enclosed staircase and a small powder room built below the staircase. All walls have a stucco finish with arched doorways leading from room to room. The living room has an attractive stone fireplace with arch and keystone over the firebox.

7-2 Description

The second floor also retains its original floor plan having two bedrooms, and one bath with original fixtures. Each bedroom has front facing dormer windows and storage space within the eaves as there is no attic storage.

The basement floor plan has been altered to allow for storage and a new bathroom.

The house sits squarely on the lot facing south with approximately 28 feet of set back from Anneslie Road, and is heavily planted around its foundation. The southwest side has a concrete driveway running along its extreme edge terminating at a parking area at the rear of the house. The back yard has a formal design of brick and stone walls enclosing a garden with plantings and small cement statues. At one time there was a small round raised fish pond in the stone patio. The perimeter of the property is fenced.

8-1 Significance

The residential development known as Anneslie was begun around 1922 through the acquisition of 110 acres by Charles Henry Steffey, a real estate operator, from Mr. Lennox Birckhead, Sr, then owner of the Anneslie estate. The original Anneslie estate covered an area bounded by Walker Ave. on the south, York Rd. on the west, Regester Ave. on the north, and east from York Rd.

The first street cut through Anneslie was Murdock Rd. on which a number of houses were built between 1923 and 1924, then followed Anneslie Rd with similar building in 1924-1925.

The Lewandowski house in Anneslie is a small 1 1/2 story cottage of brick and stone. It retains almost all its original form and its only changes throughout the past sixty years are new roofing material and the division of the basement to provide an additional bath and storage rooms.
